LEGEND

*El Cajon Valley High School
El Cajon, California
Volume XXI*

A large group of students and staff are posed on a green lawn in front of a school building. The students are arranged in many rows, filling most of the frame. Some students are standing in the front row, while others are sitting or standing in the back rows. The school building is visible in the background, with trees and a clear sky. The overall atmosphere is bright and sunny.

"This nation cannot exist on its splendid past; it must have a splendid present or it will have no future at all."

Herman Hagedorn

As we approach our nation's Bicentennial, we tend to look back at our country's splendid past. The foundation of our heritage is the flexibility of our constitution, our leaders, and their ability to change.

As a nation we have experienced change at its fullest-- from thirteen rather disunited colonies in 1776 to the most powerful nation in the world in 1976.

"Change is no modern invention. It is as old as time and as unlikely to disappear."

James Rowland Angell

Change never disappears; we are able to see it around us in all areas of life. We all experience change and by our own choices we can allow these changes in our lives to be as beautiful as the metamorphosis of the butterfly.

"Is this the little boy at play? I don't remember growing older, when did they?"

Taken from FIDDLER ON THE ROOF by Joseph Stein.
(C) 1964 by Joseph Stein. Used by permission of Crown Publishers, Inc.

Change is also experienced in a personal way. Not only does it occur around us but it occurs inside of us too. Youth is a time of searching--searching for values and purpose in life. In our search we experience change and growth both physically and mentally. Most of what we value in life will be formulated by the time we complete our high school years.

It is up to each of us to measure and evaluate the changes that we see in our lives.

To You We Dedicate. . .

"Can you help me with this math problem, Coach?" "How about going sailing, Coach." "Hey Coach! See ya at the football game tonight!"

Perhaps the best way to describe this man would be to say he is a man of service. He serves students in his math classes as well as those who are not in his classes but need some extra guidance. He has served in the past to make ECVHS a school well-known for its wrestling teams. And most important; he serves as a friend who is always ready to give a smile.

He is often active in extra-curricular activities. It is not unusual to see him standing in a crowd at a sports event, sitting in a seat at a drama production, or present at a school assembly. As you can see it is not to just any man we have dedicated this 21st edition of the LEGEND but to a special person. Thank you Mr. Winn for being both a teacher and a friend. By the way, "The answer is 'k', Coach."

This year's Legend staff took the key to the past and unlocked a trunk full of memories to put in a book packed and loaded down with fun and excitement at the turn of every page. We took the Spirit of '76, the Courage of the frontier, the Grace of the late 1800's, the Roaring of the '20's, the Excitement of the '50's, and the Freshness of the Now generation to create a record of your bicentennial year at ECVHS.

Changes on Campus

El Cajon Valley High School has seen many changes in its twenty-one year history. This past year has been no exception. Added to our campus this year we have new sights to see and new facilities to use. Change is all around us.

A change from the inside out...

and the bottom up.

A new outlook from our administration.

Our wrestlers get a new look.

"Chains" for the better.

New feathers for our caps.

When In The Course

Of Human EVENTS...

The Uprising of the Braves

Braves' uprising was the upperclassmen's way of welcoming the incoming freshmen. The freshmen were dressed in gunny sacks and cheered while the upperclassmen decided whether or not to accept them into the student body. Some freshmen tried to escape the initiation but a few mighty seniors dragged them back to their fellow classmates. During lunch for the first week of school, freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors competed for the class spirit trophy in events such as the three-legged race, the egg throw, the watermelon-eating contest and the tricycle race. The climax came when the seniors once again demonstrated their superiority, accumulated the largest amount of points and won the spirit trophy.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT, YES WE DO!

We've got spirit, yes we do!

Pageantry... a brilliant splash of colors: purple, gold, red, green, blue, white, orange, black... Massed bands: an undulating wave of motion, an unbelievable explosion of sound... The national anthem: loyalty, patriotism, enthusiastic voices... A rainbow of balloons, soaring, ever-rising, ever-smaller, disappearing... Football: tackling, running, passing, kicking, blocking... The Braves: excitement, ecstasy, disappointment, despair... The Spirit Trophy... Cheerleaders: rejuvenation, red and blue, we've got spirit... This was the Football Carnival, 1975.

Drama's Fantastic!

"1776" became the theme for our Homecoming this year. We began the week with the Seniors selecting the court of Belinda Bird, Laurel Holmes, Judy Jahries, Li-An Leonard, and Amanda Sperry. Girls' League sponsored an Alumni Tea which brought many of the students from years past to revisit our campus. The week ended with an exciting assembly with featured guests such as "Sheik Streshly" and "Hot-Legs Heaton." And if at all possible, Homecoming Night was twice as exciting. After the announcement of the Queen, a spectacular display of fireworks was put on by A.S.B.

Striking a Note

Long before the spectators see the colors of red and blue, they can hear the Braves' Marching Band. Marching to the strains of March "Grandioso", this year the band performed in such places as Artesia, West Arcadia, Long Beach, Camarillo, and our own Mother Goose Parade. The Braves' also participated in San Diego Band Night, sponsored by San Diego State University, and presented a spectacular program at the Band Jamboree in Aztec Bowl.

Drill Team Officers Keep in Step

Long hours of practice, Friday night half-time shows, and memorization of routines become an important part of the lives of the girls, who as a group, form the El Cajon Valley High School Drill Team and Banner. With a group twice as large as last year, they accompanied the band to many parades. This year's Drill Team was the first ever to be invited to San Diego Band Night.

We Play the Songs

When Marching Band ends its season, the members do not disband, but only shed the old cloak and put on a new one—Concert Band. Instead of marching down streets they perform before audiences both on and off campus, playing such compositions as "A Jubilant Overture," "March 'Grandioso'," and "St. Anne's Fugue."

My name is Klaus and I'm from Germany. Over here I have had the possibility to take subjects that are not taught in German schools like agriculture, guitar, and diving. Here you choose six subjects on your own, and you will have each subject every school day. Not so in Germany. There it's not only six of them, it is up to fourteen different subjects. The teachers here are like advisors. Someone who helps you solve a problem, a person that shows you how to work on something on your own. People here accept more easily and much faster newcomers like me. Many people tried to help me or just to speak to me. This is a new experience for me. I don't know out of what reason this comes, but I like it very much!

The International Club raises money to help bring A.F.S. students to ECVHS and encourages friendly relations with foreign cultures.

Maids for the Mats

This year the mat maids have been through a few changes. One of the changes is their new advisor and coach of the wrestling team, Coach Takahashi, who believes that the girls are part of the team. The uniformed girls publicize matches, keep score, and cheer our wrestlers on to victory.

Action Club Moves

The "Good News" Singers

The Action Club was started this year to help the elderly people in our community. The students went into homes and helped meet the needs of senior citizens.

The Gospel Group, created by Mr. Gomez, is a new addition to our school this year. These students got together and sang gospel songs after school and gave occasional concerts.

Radio Club - Turn on—Tune in

The Radio Club contributes to the school by setting up the P.A. system at our school assemblies. Mr. Long (advisor) helps the students to obtain a Ham-radio operators license, and makes modern shop facilities available.

Sagacious Scholars Score

The purpose of C.S.F. is to stimulate interest and foster pride in high standards of scholarship, encouraging future education for highly qualified people. The earning of ten points; A=3, B=2, C=1, makes a student eligible for C.S.F.

Let the Son Shine in

The new Christian Club gives everyone an opportunity to learn more about Christ. It is a time when all can sit together with leadership from Mr. Duff and other students in the club and openly discuss the Bible and other matters of importance in their lives.

always,

As I sit here, there are so many things that I can remember that you and I had done together. In each a memory, that I will always cherish. From the time I first met you a little over 10 months ago to this day on June 4th I loved you. There will always be something special in my heart each time I hear the name, Wayne Martindale. I hope that we can forever be close. I'm sorry for all of the hurt I've caused you it was never meant the way it happened.

I always remember your smile, a smile that helped me through hard times. Your patience brought me courage and helped me to understand the true meaning of love. I only hope that in the future we can get along. Not like what's happened in the past.

Thank you for pulling me through the hard time I had with Alex. May God bless you and keep you always. -76-

Time is a sort of river of passing events, and strong is its current; no sooner is a thing brought to sight than it is swept by and another takes its place, and this too will be swept away.

Marcus Aurelius Antoninus

Wayne,

I'm really glad that we have gotten to be such good friends.
You are one of the fewer guys that I can talk freely about anything. I hope everything works out for you and Cindy. I know it will.
This summer we are gonna have to do some partying. It was fun in history, getting in trouble all the time. You are really ^{an} excellent person, and I hope you enjoy life. See ya this ~~is~~ summer. I hope. Call me ~~if~~ if you find out about any party, or if you just want to talk to someone. 443-5320. Oh, I'm going to be staying at Karen's house - 447-4119.
Take care,
Love
Arlene

Braves' Chieftans Direct

Dr. William Streshly - Principal

Ben Amador - Administrative Vice Principal

Our Tribal Affairs

This year we saw change come to the Braves' administration with the addition of Mr. Art Pegas to the Vice-Principal's office, joining Mr. Ben Amador and Mr. Darrell Gould in sharing those duties. Mr. Pegas also advised ASB as part of his administrative responsibilities.

The administrative staff continued under the leadership of principal, Dr. Bill Streshly who pursued his stated goals of working for the improvement of all ECVHS students in reading and mathematical skills.

Darrell Gould - Vice Principal, Counseling and Guidance

Arthur Pegas - Vice Principal, Student Services

Counselors Lend

Herbert Gross

Laura Kirchman

Our counseling staff consists of five dedicated people who worked many hours to assist our student body. Jolly Mr. Rogers, the ever smiling Mrs. Kirchman and the hustling Mr. Gross were joined this year by the winning team of Mr. Foster and Mr. Castro, who when last at E.C.V.H.S., coached the 1965 Braves' CIF football squad. Mr. Duff continued to provide students with work experience from his office in the newly-located Career Development Center. Rounding out the student services staff was Mr. Skoor, school psychologist.

A Fond

This year Mrs. Hirsch completes a thirty-four year career in teaching. She has been guiding the students of El Cajon Valley High School in homemaking skills since the school first opened in 1955. Mrs. Hirsch hopes to travel and finish her many craft projects. We wish you well Mrs. Hirsch, in all your future plans.

Farewell

Mr. Bonwell has spent a long and rewarding career in the Grossmont Union High School District and at El Cajon Valley High School. For the past seventeen years he has helped to develop and create a sense of individuality among his Social Science and photography students. The end of this career marks the beginning of a new one for Mr. Bonwell. His future plans include taking pictures of American-made products that are used abroad, while touring the world on a freighter. We wish you luck Mr. Bonwell, in all that's ahead of you.

People Helping Other People

We have a very unique group of students on our campus. These people are the Trainable Mentally Retarded. They are taught to become helpful citizens and to live semi-independent lives.

They are also trained in areas of refined skills, commercial cooking, and animal husbandry. These people can add something special to our time at El Cajon Valley as 170 regular ECVHS student T. A. 's have discovered this year.

The 1975 Braves' Varsity football team set out to defend their Grossmont League Championship this year and came within one game of succeeding in their task. For the second year in a row, El Cajon reached the C.I.F. playoffs. Significant of the quality of this year's team is the fact that the only team to finish higher in the league, Granite Hills, was in the S.D. County Championship game.

Once again the Braves, led by Grossmont League Player of the Year, Mark Malone, provided a season of great entertainment for ECVHS. Who can forget the tense 21-20 victory over Grossmont, or the come-from-behind shellacking of Mt. Miguel? Combining a consistent passing attack with a devastating running game, the Braves swept to a 7-2 season record and leave a number of seasoned veterans as a nucleus for next year's team.

IN MEMORIAM
Douglas Walter Harris
May 2, 1960 - December 17, 1965

Editors' Farewell Address

As graduates of the class of 1976 we have seen more change in our lifetimes within our world and country than any other graduating class before us. We have seen the age of adults lowered to 18, the rise of Womens Lib, the changing of moral values, and the advancement of technology so great that a few years after we've graduated from high school much of what we've learned will be obsolete. As seniors we can see the changes that have occurred in our lives since we first entered high school as shy, uncertain freshmen and are now leaving as confident, young adults ready to change the world or be changed.

But some things will never change. School will begin anew in the fall, students will come and go to classes, teachers will assign homework, and life at ECVHS will continue. Also our needs as human beings will always remain the same. Man will continually search for love, security, hope, peace, and happiness.

For some of us life at ECVHS will no longer be a part of our everyday lives. As seniors we will have new paths of knowledge to explore, new problems to cope with, and new horizons to discover.

Through words and pictures we have tried to capture some of the memories of this past year and we hope as you look back to life at ECVHS you will note the changes which have occurred in your own life.

We will forever remember and thank every individual of this campus—teachers, administrators, students, and all those who have affected our lives here—for the time they've spent for us and with us and for the changes which they've made in our lives.

*Love,
Jude & Alvin*

THE FIRST 200 YEARS

A knowledge of American history is an invitation to experience the accomplishment, drama, tragedy and hope of an infant nation struggling to grow up. Sturdy, determined pioneers hacked away at the edges of a raw continent and, with blunders and achievements alike, modeled a country with a spirited nature and a united commitment to individual liberty for every one of its citizens. Americans, great and not so great, have given us a heritage to carry on and improve upon. Farmers and soldiers, industrialists and merchants, dreamers and leaders, are all there in two centuries of progress.

But the maturing isn't finished. You'll find the boundaries of growth as endless today as when our forefathers first envisioned them. You can seek out your own destiny with the wisdom and judgement which comes with re-creation of the past. Your knowledge, dreams and industry will carry on through many more centuries of living history.

THE CHANGING NATION

Ownership of land had been just a dream to most of the colonists from feudal England. With the great expanse of cheap land opening up in the West, the dream became reality.

The Louisiana Purchase of 1803 opened the first sizable frontier in the Midwest, but the nation was not ready for it yet. It took a growing market in the East, where land was getting high-priced and scarce, and development of good transportation, to really start the frontier movement.

The Gold Rush caused hordes of settlers to take various routes to the Pacific Coast and its yellow riches. The railroads brought farmers and ranchers, along with the miners, who decided to stop all along the routes and build their homes. Railroads were instrumental in the quick civilization of the West, bringing people in numbers so large that the resentful Indians were finally pushed back into unwanted and infertile areas.

America became a haven for immigrants from every nation as freedom beckoned them to the teeming cities of the East, the plains, and the rich west coast farmlands.

Sick of the Civil War and with their own lands divided up and lost, many Southerners set out to "begin again" in the virgin territories. "Westering" soon became the national tradition as North and South moved together toward a new life. Americanism was advanced socially, by the hard-working, bare-fisted types who settled the frontiers.

CHAPTERS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

The Stamp Act of 1765 was an attempt by England to tax items that were wholly American. The colonists reacted in seething resentment which erupted into angry protestations. The first blood of the American Revolution was spilled during one such incident at Boston in 1770. Several Americans lost their lives over a snowball thrown at a British sentry.

In the fight to achieve commerce equality, the United States found itself in a naval war over shipping lanes. Fort McHenry was heroically held during a British naval bombardment, and the stars and stripes still flew after a night of hard fighting. The next morning Francis Scott Key penned the immortal words of what would become the national anthem.

Settlers had to have permanent access to the new lands, so canals and bridges were built to carry stages and wagon trains loaded with machinery destined for settlements in the West. The pioneers foresaw great wealth in the cheap acreage that was available.

Frontiersmen cleared the wilderness, built settlements and drove back the Indians. The Pony Express and the telegraph became primary means of communication.

Agriculture was the wealth of the country. American inventions of the time were often related to working the soil. The McCormick Reaper, mowing machines, textile looms and the cotton gin were instrumental in the settling of new frontiers.

In 1848, James Marshall found gold in the race of a sawmill he was building for John Sutter at Coloma, California. The lust to "get rich quick" was the force behind this biggest and gaudiest gold rush ever.

While "gold rush fever" gripped the country, states were increasingly more divided on the slavery issue. Civil war broke out in the East. This "Brothers War" was bitterly fought and, though the scars remain even today, slavery was abolished.

Cities grew at an alarming pace, often without regard to the limits of safety. The great Chicago fire of 1871 burned the bustling cattle market empire beyond recognition. But the pioneer spirit was not broken. Chicagoans began rebuilding and preparations were underway to celebrate the 100th birthday of the country.

The "Iron Horse," carrying homesteaders, greatly helped settlement of the new country. The first transcontinental railroad connected the country at Promontory Summit, Utah, on May 10, 1869.

Transportation was setting the pattern for the American way of life. The country became a mobile society with electric trolleys, automobiles, farm machinery, and bicycles, all the rage. Along with the accessibility of travel came a new era of nationalism.

A World War called upon the nation's young men to unite and fight. After the war in Europe, the nation pulled itself together and industry flourished once again. A carefree America buried war memories in the new moving pictures, telephones, light bulbs, electric generators, stock market ticker tape machines, phonographs and a wealth of inventions from the fertile minds of its young inventors. Baseball became the national sport and prohibition was law.

Black Thursday, October 24, 1929, saw the American stock market crash to the lowest level in history. Panic set in as the unemployment level skyrocketed. The country was in its worst economic crisis. Slowly, but surely, the wounds of the "crash," the "dust bowl," and poverty healed.

The steel industry geared up for the revival while rumors were whispered in the Roosevelt administration of another impending war. The nation's leaders scoffed; until December 7, 1941 Pearl Harbor!

Industrial production reached a peak during the war years. Upon their return from four years of battle, the veterans forged ahead with an eye on a "better life for everyone." Several moderate recessions in the 50's and 60's reminded cautious citizens of past decades.

Huge strides were being taken in the scientific field. Television became a part of every family's life. National events were household topics — while they happened — thanks to the new medium. Individuals and groups were seen "on the tube" as they advocated new social reform, or justice, or special causes of their own. TV gave individuals and political systems power greater than ever before. Audio-visual journalism had made its impact.

Nearly 100 years of struggling for civil liberties were realized when President Lyndon Baines Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act of 1964 into law. The Act outlawed segregation in any form.

The seventies shed light on a new trouble for the nation as it approached its 200th birthday. The world's energy sources and natural resources were being used up faster than they could be replenished. Americans once again waded into a new frontier. The "energy crisis" and "ecology" were prominent words in the language. Ways to save nature from the neglect of mankind and ways of preserving precious fuel without damaging that balance of nature were the objectives of Americans across the country.

Earth's crises spurred Americans into further pioneering. This time — outer space. American astronauts were the first on the surface of the moon and the U.S. was first to build a "sky-lab" for more scientific study.

American is still learning and growing after a mere 200-year infancy. The original determination of our forefathers was told again in the words of Neil Armstrong as he made the first step on the moon — "a small step for man, but a giant step for mankind."

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.— That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,— That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Tyranny, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.— Such has been the patient suffrage of these Colonies.

The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid Consideration.

He has refused to assent to Laws of immediate and vital Importance to the Colonies, unless he thought fit to suspend the same, until his Pleasure should be known.

He has refused to pass Acts of Trade and Commerce, the best Advantages of which even his Crowned Subjects enjoy.

He has called together frequent Sessions of Parliaments, for no other purpose than to exhaust the Colonies with Taxes.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing to assent to Acts for establishing Judiciary Powers.

He has kept standing Armies among us, without our Consent.

He has combined with large Bodies of British Troops, to oppress us in Towns.

For calling of great Meetings, for plotting and contriving against us by taking advantage of our Trusts and Confidence.

For cutting off our Trade from all parts of the world.

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent.

For depriving us in many Cases of the benefit of Trial by Jury.

For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended Crimes.

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in England, and substituting therein others in our stead.

For depriving us in many Cases of the benefits of the Writ of Habeas Corpus, and of the Trial by Jury.

For destroying the lives, liberties and properties of the Colonies, by the merciless and insatiable Greeds of his close ally the East India Company.

For carrying on an unwarlike Armament and increasing his Forces among us.

For exciting the jealousies and animosities of one part of our Colonies against another, by separating those who ought to be united by Brotherly Love and Kindred.

For inciting to Rebellion and Insurrection among us.

For abridging the Militia, by declaring us Treasonable and seditious Persons.

For keeping us longer in War, than we ever desired.

One short Notice has endeavored to bring on the Indians, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free People.

Not have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their Legislatures to extend an unwarrantable Jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of concinnuity. We must therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name and Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.— And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

Imagine buying that acre of land you have spotted for $1.25! Or, even at the higher price of $10. Those are the prices offered to our founding fathers to encourage settlement of the wilderness areas of this nation.

A stage wasn't the most comfortable way to go, but you could get from city to city for as little as $3 — at the amazing pace of six miles per hour.

Compare today's wages with a 12-hour day in the early 1800's. A man earned 50¢ a day. Of course his dollar bought a little more than today's. Butter in 1826 was about 5¢ lb. in the Midwest; eggs, 3¢ doz.; corn 6¢ bu., wheat, 25¢ bu.; and a cow could be bought for $5.

With travel becoming the American tradition, you could choose train, wagon, horseback or the water. A canal ride, with bed and board included, averaged 3 or 4¢ per mile. And when you reached your destination, you could sit down to a 5, or even 10 course meal for 25¢. (Ladies 20¢, in consideration of appetite.)

Farmers in the early 1800's could own the famous McCormick Reaper for a mere $100. But the Civil War increased prices as the machine became the first item farmers could buy on time payments for the sum of $1,500.

A good suit of clothes then might cost $1.95 and ladies waists (blouses) were marketed for 49¢ to $3.50 with a whole dress pattern priced at 15¢.

Cookstoves, "quality-satisfaction guaranteed," could cost you $29.25 at $4 per month and a dandy heating stove could set you back as much as $5.73 and up. The first electric refrigerator cost $900 — which might be enough to make you faint on your 1907 fainting couch that had cost a mere $7.85.

Your new baby travelled in the height of fashion in a wicker sleeping coach (stroller) for the sum of $12.04. If you had $1,500 in 1903 you could show off in one of the first automobiles.

Ah, those were the days. Some of the current prices are reminiscent of those days, but at frontier prices, which were a whole different story. Hardy pioneers had to pay $2 a pound for sugar, too. And the same for a pound of coffee or pepper. Those items were only 15¢ per pound back in civilized St. Louis. Flour was marked up 100 times for sale to the frontiersmen and during the famous Gold Rush, that precious commodity went for $400 a barrel.

Men and women who helped shape America's history

THOMAS PAINE, a bankrupt Quaker corsetmaker, sometime teacher, preacher and grocer wrote the most brilliant pamphlet of the American Revolution. His words in Common Sense reflected longings and aspirations that have remained part of American culture to this day.

DANIEL WEBSTER chose law as a career and went on to become well-known in the courts and in politics. He was twice Secretary of State with an eye always to the Presidency which eluded him.

DOROTHEA DIX worked her entire adult life for reform of the existing penal and mental institutions in the mid-1800's. The first state hospital in the nation at Trenton, New Jersey was a direct result of her efforts.

The creator of the Cherokee alphabet, SEQUOYAH, was an artist, writer and silversmith. He used a simple 1821 English primer to compose the characters. The famous redwood trees of the Pacific coast bear his name.

Chief Justice JOHN MARSHALL established fundamental principles of American constitutional law. He is noted for his precedential declaration of a Congressional act as unconstitutional. He served through five administrations, from 1801-1835.

Born a slave in Maryland, FREDERICK DOUGLASS taught himself to read and write secretly and, at 21, escaped to freedom. He was an ardent abolitionist campaigning successfully for Negro suffrage and civil rights.

"The New Colossus," a sonnet composed by EMMA LAZARUS in 1883 is inscribed on a bronze tablet at the base of the Statue of Liberty. She organized relief for Jews and helped fugitives from the Czar's ghettos to establish homes in America.

AMELIA JENKS BLOOMER, best known for a mode of dress she adopted during her campaign for equal rights for women. Though ridiculed until she gave up the costume, the term "bloomer" came to symbolize woman's bid for individual freedom.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN epitomized the American dream of a humble young man ascending to the highest office of the land. He was superbly skilled at analyzing complex issues and translating them into meaningful words for the public. He was devoted to the preservation of the Union.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE wrote Uncle Tom's Cabin in an effort to make the whole nation realize the inhumanity of slavery. Her book resulted in one of the most popular and controversial plays on the American stage. The Civil War was kindled by this work.

HORACE GREELEY'S admonition to "Go West young man" was a rallying cry of the pioneers of America. He was founder and editor of the New York Tribune. He was best known for his philosophy of social reform and his unsuccessful bid for the Presidency in 1872.

JOSEPH PULITZER was the first journalist to reach a truly massive audience. His New York World newspaper was the symbol of "yellow journalism" with its sensationalism aimed at the common man.

ANDREW CARNEGIE was a giant in the railroad and steel industries. He believed that it was the duty of a rich man to distribute his wealth during his lifetime. To that end, he established 2800 libraries and many cultural halls throughout America.

A lifetime passion for machinery led HENRY FORD to Detroit where, in 1896, he completed his first motor vehicle. The Ford Motor Company manufactured the first "Model T" in 1909.

One of the most elementary symbols of the American way of life was established when J. EDGAR HOOVER and his Federal Bureau of Investigation "G-men" set out to clean up the country. His career spanned over 40 years.

The motion-picture industry was revolutionized in America and DAVID WARK GRIFFITH became known as the "Father of the film art" and "king of directors" for his part in this revolution. His camera techniques were the pioneering steps of the industry.

Serving an unprecedented four terms as President of the United States, FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT was a popular leader who made extensive use of fireside radio chats to explain his plans and generate enthusiasm to push them through Congress.

ROBERT FROST's poetry was clear, understated, well-metered and told the stories of rural America. He was a four-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize and has been called America's poet laureate.

A plain, homely woman with tremendous appeal to the masses, who was always in the "thick of things" describes ELEANOR ROOSEVELT and her lifetime of politicking beside her husband during his four terms.

THURGOOD MARSHALL is the first Negro to serve as a justice of the Supreme Court. His law career was aimed primarily at civil rights cases.

The crippling poliomyelitis was conquered by DR. JONAS SALK in 1953 after more than 25 years of research. Polio was reduced by 96% in less than ten years. SALK's research continues in California at the Salk Institute.

MARTIN LUTHER KING was a leader in the cause of civil rights. He had been a pastor before turning to the cause of segregation. His leadership earned him the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964. He was assassinated by James Earl Ray in 1968.

Lieutenant Colonel JOHN GLENN started America's travels to outer space when he became the first American to orbit the earth. He had been an aviator in World War II and a test pilot in peacetime.

GERALD R. FORD, the first President to achieve the office without an election. In 1974, through a series of scandalous events, the Nixon administration toppled and FORD reached the position through approval by Congress.

NECESSITY

Without realizing it, England instilled in the colonists the individual purpose and ingenuity that necessity breeds. With trade goods cut to a minimum, determined young leaders of the time set out to find ways of surviving without support from the Mother Country.

Agricultural methods and machines and labor saving devices were designed by our forefathers. As frontiers opened, Yankee genius had to conquer natural barriers in the wild new country, so suspension bridges were invented and methods of transportation were perfected for the purpose of opening the untamed areas. Later, they sought to section off the land with the revolutionary and controversial invention — barbed wire.

Cooper's 1-horsepower Tom Thumb train in 1830 and later, automobiles like the first Model T, and the 4-horsepower airplane; became American modes of travel from city to city and coast to coast.

Americans knew that the fertile lands of this nation would produce unequalled harvests if machines were designed to take over for man. They knew also that trade routes were difficult to travel and manufacturing would have to be done close to home. The cotton gin, textile looms, drill presses and a reaper which could cut six times as much grain as a hand scythe were some of the tools invented.

Protection for themselves and for their young country prodded inventors like Eli Whitney to perfect firearms and others to work on plans for the first submarine. Young inventors like Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas Edison (called the nation's most valuable citizen) visualized machines that would light the country and open up communication with those in the far corners of the nation. The telephone, telegraph, phonograph and the first light bulb were discovered in the late 1800's and early twentieth century. This American way of doing for oneself inspired many to become inventors in their own right. Some sought to save labor and mass-produce for profit while others envisioned not only riches, but excitement and adventure as they discovered ways to defy nature.

Throughout the past 200 years the American mind has been unleashed to take whatever paths necessary to fulfill the needs. In the last half-century, the pace of discovery has been overwhelming and inventions for the taming of the universe lie in the grasp of America while the habit of "finding a way" is ingrained in its people. The seeds of industrial America were sown by these inventors resulting in today's mechanized society.
